

UDMI commissioning tool

The aim of the UDMI commissioning tool is to compare the values of data points from the local network (BACnet or Modbus values) to the values appearing in GCP PubSub.

The UDMI commissioning tool accepts an input file with a list of BACnet object names or Modbus registers numbers and a list of UDMI device and point names, and validates that their values are the same.